

The Protection of the Theotokos

(October 1/14)

It happened in the year 910 A.D. in Constantinople. The city was surrounded by a large hostile army, and the inhabitants were in grave danger. Many people gathered in the Church of the Most-Holy Virgin and prayed to Her for protection. They prayed for a very long time.

It was already late at night when two men – Saint Andrew, Fool-for-Christ, and his disciple, Saint Epiphanius – witnessed a miracle. In the darkness of the night there suddenly shone a brilliant light. The Most-Pure Mother of our Lord appeared in the sky. She heard the prayers of the devout Christians and came for their protection. The Theotokos was seen together with the Apostle John, John the Baptist and many other saints. The Heavens came down to earth. The saints, dressed in white, praised the Lord and sang to Him.

The Theotokos prayed to Her Son and asked Him to help the city. Then She lifted up the cover from Her head (omophorion in Greek) and spread it over the people, as if protecting them from danger. After that, She became invisible. The city was saved; the enemy retreated.

The celebration of this feast in Russia was established in the 12th century by Prince of Vladimir, Andrei Bogolubsky.

Many years passed after the miracle in Constantinople, but Orthodox people still remember it. The Protection of the Theotokos is one of our beloved church feasts. We know that in times of trouble the Mother of God will help and comfort us. Her holy protection and endless love remain with us always.

Ruth and Naomi

The story of Ruth is told in The Book of Ruth of the Holy Bible. It is about a kind and devoted young woman who did not want to leave her mother-in-law.

It happened at the time when Israel was ruled by judges. Famine came to the land of Judah. One man took his wife, Naomi, and their two sons out of Bethlehem to the land of Moab. Soon the man died, and his family remained there about ten years. The sons married women from Moab. Their names were Orpah and Ruth.

Lesson 5

Then both Naomi's sons died. She lost all her family; only her two daughters-in-law remained. Naomi learned that there was no more famine in Judah and decided to go back. So she set out from the place where she was, with her two daughters-in-law, and they went on the way to return to the land of Judah. But Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, "Go, return each of you to her mother's house. May the Lord deal kindly with you, as you have dealt with the dead and with me." (Ruth 1:7-8)

Both young women cried. They loved Naomi so much that they did not want to leave her. And they said to her, "No, we will return with you to your people." (1:10) But Naomi insisted. She knew that life in Judah would be difficult for her daughters-in-law.

Finally, Orpah agreed to return to her mother and said good-bye to Naomi.

Ruth firmly decided to stay with her mother-in-law. "...where you go I will go, and where you lodge, I will lodge; your people shall be my people, and your God my God; where you die I will die, and there will I be buried." (1:16-17)

Ruth always remained with Naomi. In Bethlehem she married a rich man, and became the mother of a boy. Her son, Obed, was the grandfather of David, the great king of Israel.

D. Чему нас учит история Руфи? Запишите по-английски одним-двумя предложениями. В ответе используйте слова faithful и devoted.
